

Name:
Class:

CARTOON ANALYSIS WORKSHEET

Harry's cartoons refer to one article in the South China Morning Post.

You will find the headline, name of reporter, date and location of the article in the newspaper on the cartoon's webpage. Alternatively, you can look for the 'Harry's view' tag in the print version of the SCMP.

Date of cartoon:

Headline of the article Harry is referring to:

.....

Identify

In the cartoon...

Who are the characters? What is it in the picture that helped you to identify the different characters?

.....
.....
.....

What are the characters' facial expressions?

.....
.....
.....

What are the important objects in the cartoon?

.....
.....
.....

What is happening?

.....
.....
.....

Locate the cartoon's caption(s) and identify the key words

.....
.....
.....

Try to guess what this is all about

.....
.....
.....

In the article...

Identify the five Ws (who, what, when, where, why, how) What are the key points?

.....
.....
.....
.....
.....
.....

What are the different views quoted in the article?

.....
.....
.....
.....

Understand the message

How does Harry's cartoon relate to the article?

.....
.....
.....

What is Harry's point? What is he picking up on?

.....
.....
.....
.....

What makes the cartoon funny: the visuals, the words or both?

.....
.....
.....

Is the cartoon controversial? If so, who would agree and who wouldn't?

.....
.....
.....
.....

What do think about it?

.....
.....
.....
.....